

Python Script and Notebook mark criteria

- Check docs ingested and retrieval is used if RAG approach else check what way candidate is using information from the document to send to LLM extraction step. - 2
- Correct use of retrieved data and query to run LLM extraction call/chain - 1
- The env is configurable from constants.py , .env , config file - 1
- Code is properly modularized in code or notebook - 1

-
- Extra points - If used async call , batch call and SOLID principles - 1

Readme File and Documentation marks criteria

- Check the steps are written to run the provided code - 1
- Requirement.txt is present along with the code - 1
- Check if following exact step program is running - 2
- If Dockerfile present , or steps mentioned to create new environment and run command there - 1

JSON File (output)

- Proper JSON format output coming - 2
- Check for case where there can be no data extracted how the output is handled(Like is there any info in output which mentioned for a given key no info found like output Unknown, NA, False etc.) - 2
- Output parser or any post processor used to control the output format - 1

If any UI is there like streamlit , gradio, etc +1 in overall points